CEC INSTRUCTORS WANTED!

Michael Canino, AAHP Executive Director

We are looking for instructors to impart knowledge upon their audience in the upcoming HPS Annual Meeting in July and various CEC forums throughout the year.

Who: AAHP members & industry experts.

What: Present either a four-hour or eight-hour educational workshop focused on topics relevant to health physics.

Where: One of the following events:

- The HPS Annual Meeting in the Summer;
- Virtual presentations (four-hour only).

How: Submit an abstract for consideration via email to director@aahp-abhp.org.

The CHP Corner, November 2022

Why: Benefits to presenters include:

- Promotion by AAHP as an industry expert to provide exposure to a network of colleagues including 1,500+ members and other followers of AAHP;
- Speaking stipend (honorarium);
- Continuing education credits as a presenter: an eight-hour lecture at the AAHP Professional Enrichment Program is one occurrence for 20 credits. Otherwise, if considered an HPS PEP then one occurrence for four credits and a CEL is one occurrence for two credits.

Some suggested topics for CEC Courses:

- Academic/Research
- Accelerators
- Decommissioning

- Environmental
- Emergency Response
- Instrumentation
- Medical (Radiation Dosimetry in Interventional Radiology; Leadless Protection Systems in Cath Labs; The use of Lu-177 in Radiation Therapy)
- Military
- Power Reactor
- Non-Ionizing Radiation
- Professional Development (Early Career Professionals; Women in Rad Protection)

If you are a CHP, you have already shown your dedication and expertise in health physics. Sharing your knowledge with others is a great way to further position yourself as a leader in the community and to ensure the further advancement of health physics. There are few opportunities available for 2023, be sure to submit early to secure your spot.

The American Academy of Health Physics mourns the loss of Joyce P. Davis award recipient and President Emeritus Howard W. Dickson. Our world of Health Physics is at the same time shaken by such a monumental loss and so greatly strengthened by his life of selfless service to his profession and by the proteges he so tirelessly mentored.
